Announcement was made after the adjournment that Michael Francis Doyle, a Philadelphia lawyer, would assist the defense. Doyle was selected at the request of a sister of Case.

Testimony that told in detail of the capture of Sir Roger after he landed at Tralee from a German submarine was given at the opening of the bearing.

Witnesses told of the sighting of the collapsible boat on which Casement, Daniel T. Bailey, who is accused with him, and a man named Monteith, who has not been arrested, were sent ashore from U-boat 19.

A girl witness pointed out Bir Roger in court as one of the three men. A Kerry County farmer told of seeing footprints on the sand which aroused his suspicions and prompted him to notify the police.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the moraing inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous, stagnant matter.

whole of the internal poisonous, stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a through flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of prople who sickly complexions, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.—Advt.

gan to take voluminous notes. The first witness of the day was Mary Gorman, a typical Irish girl and it was she who identified Casement as one of the men who landed from the submarine. She testified she saw three men passing a farm yard gate early Good Friday morn

The girl talked in a brogue s broad that it was necessary to ask her to write some of the words before they could be understood. This she did smilingly.

She was asked by A. H. Bodkin for the prosecution whether she could identify any of the three men. She replied, "Yes, sir," and pointed to Bir Roger. The prisoner bowed his head and scribbled more diligently than ever on the pad of paper.

In the cross examination of Hearne it was disclosed that Casement bad objected strongly to being questioned and did not submit until one of the constables levelled a rifle at him. On case and smiled cheerfully as he took roll of papers which the police recovered.

One paper contained the words: Await further instructions. Have decided to stay. Further am and rifles are needed. Bend another WORKS ON A STATEMENT. After the hearing had been in progess for some time Casement turned his attention from the testimony to the writing of a long statement. It was while thus engaged that he showed marked emotion for the first time since the hearing began. What-ever was the nature of his thoughts, they were such that they moved him to tears. He wept queetly as he worked away with his penoil. It was a striking change from the smiling and self-confident man of a short time before.

Feiners, who were drowned in a motor accident.

"I'm sorry," said Casement, "because they came here to help me. They were two fine Irishmen."

Inspector Sandy Cock of Scotland Yard testified that Casement admitted his identity when he met him at the rallway station in London and removed him to the Tower.

Maurice Moriarity, a motor car driver, testified that a solicitor's clerk named Stack slived him on Good Friday to drive him to Ballyhete. En routs, he said, he picked up a man whom he identified to-day as Sir Roger Casement.

If more convincing proof were needed of Casement's artistic temperament than is stamped on the features of the prisoner, such proof might have been had during the recess for luncheon, when Sir Roger was taken from the dock. He left in his seat the pad of paper on which he had been writing.

Some time during the morning he had drawn a rosebush covered with blossoms and buds. The sketching of this rosebush while in the midst of a critical examination was a typical act of this man of many moods.

OVER SIZE OF ARMY PROVIDED IN BILL

Peace Strength of 211,000 Officers and Men, Senator Chamberlain Reports.

NONSENSE, SAYS HAY

Accuses Senator of Trying to Fool Big Army Men Into Believing They Won.

WASHINGTON, May 16 .- Congress found to-day, after conflicting statements by Chairmen Hay and Chamberlain, it didn't know just how big

In the Senate Chairman Chamber lain read a statement that the peace strength 11,500 officers and 225,000 combatant troops; and that the National 17,000 officers and 440,000 men.

In the House Chairman Hay denied the accuracy of these figures. He prepared a statement to deliver when the conference report comes before the House, in which charged Chamberlain with having order to make the Senate believe the Senate "Big Army" men had won

When he heard this charge, Chamberlain came back with a statement that Hay is depressing the real strength of the army with the object of making the House believe his "little army" men won.

In printing the report of the conferees to the Senate Senator Chamberlain said:

"The bill is a compromise, and many of its provisions are experimental, and may be found not to work out. But it is fundamentally right, and must be welcomed by all who are reasonable and unprejudiced as a 'good bill.' The total inrease of regulars will be:
